Mr. Bryan told the ambassador that a special train had been promised by Villa to take the party to Chilmahua, where the body has been located, and that a start probably would be made to-morrow or the next day. It had not been decided to-day exactly who would make up the party, but it is regarded as certain that the British consul, Charles A. S. Perceval, and his secretary; George C. Carothers, American consular agent at Juarez, and Marlon Letcher, American consul at Chilmahua, will view the body, along with two army surgeons.

While there has been no satisfactory answer to the request of the American government that the body of Benton he delivered to the widow, this point is temperarily being waived pending the examination of the corpse. There is a possibility that after the evidence on the case has been gathered that the widow may consent to its interment in Chimahua. If she insists, it is understeed the American government will demand surrencer of the body to her. The news that General Villa had issued an order requiring that American consular representatives in Mexico be advised of all arrests of foreigners, was received with satisfaction here.

Discussion of the Benton case in an informal way among administration Discussion of the Benton case in an informal way among administration officials has developed the view that primarily Benton committed an indiscretion in going to Villa, with whom, it is admitted, he was on unfriendly terms. For Benton to go into Villa's camp under such circumstances, high officials here think, was to unnecessarily risk his life. They contrast the offair with the killing of Vergara, who did nothing to provoke Mexicans, but Versions of this view were given to-day in a hearing before the Senate Interstate Commerce Committee by Senator Newlands, the chairman.

Similar views have been expressed by other Senaturs, Republicans as well as Democrats, and members of the House, and there is a growing disposition to amend the language of the bill in a marked degree, if not to climinate it from the trust legislative program altogether.

NO CHANGE IN AUTHORITY

Parcel Post Service Still in Hands of Postmaster-General.

Washington, February 27.—All attempts to limit the authority of the Postmaster-General to change the weight, rates or zones in the parcel post service were defeated to-day in the Senate during consideration of the post-office appropriation bill.

An amendment to the bill as it passed the House, proposed by the Senate Post-Office Committee to prevent the Postmaster-General from making these changes, was defeated by a vote of 32 to 24. Then Senator Bankhead, chairman of the committee, sought to forestall a proposed increase in the maximum weight of packages to 100 pounds by an amendment providing that postal funds should not be used to transport packages of more than lifty pounds. This was defeated by one vote, the roll call standing 28 to 27. Parcel Post Service Still in Hands of Senator Clark, of Wyoming, attacked a provision of the bill granting $2,000 to the legal representatives of specified employes of the post-office service killed while on duty, and succeeding in having stricken from the list certain employes not engaged in the railway service. He said if the bill, as presented, were passed the government would have to insure the lives of employes in every other department of the government service.

Final vote on the measure probably will be reached to-morrow.

TO BEGIN LIFE OVER AGAIN

Woman Under Scatence of Death for Thirteen Years Is Pardoned. Reading, Pa., February 27,—Mrs. Kate Edwards, who has been under sentence of death for nearly thirteen years for killing her husband, to-day was released from the Berks County Jail under a pardon granted by Governor John K. Tener, and secretly was taken from the city to begin life over again. She was convicted of first degree murder in 1201, and sentenced to be hanged, but four Governors declined to fix a day for her execution. After her conviction petitions were circulated in many parts of the county, and were signed by thousands of women, protesting against the execution.

Mrs Edwards's case was several times taken to the Board of Pardons, but commutation of sentence was always refused. Last month, however, the board recommended she be pardoned, provided she would not be a victim of further notoriety. She was released before dawn to-day. It is believed she was taken to Philadelphia, where she will be placed in an institution. She is nearly sixty years old. from the city to begin life over again.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Washington, February 27.—A bill providing a new form of government for Porto Rico and laying a foundation for future Porto Rican Independence was introduced in the House today by Delegate Munoz Rivera.

The bill lakes the management of Porto Rican affairs from the Bureau of Insular Affairs, War Department, and, gives it into the hands of the State Department. It abolishes the United States District Court of Porto Rica, and establishes a Porto Rican Supreme Court. It curtails the power of the appointive Governor and makes most of his acts subject to the approval of the Porto Rican Scnate.
